Voyager 2 To Begin Journey To Outer Reaches Of Solar System

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Voyager 2 spacecraft was to be launched today on a multibillion-mile journey that scientists hope will provide live television pictures of Jupiter and Saturn beginning in 1979 and perhaps the outer reaches of the solar system later.

The 1,800-pound Voyager 2 was being carried aloft by a Titan Centaur rocket set on a course that, depending on how well the early parts of the mission go, may also include flybys of Uranus and Neptune, which is about four billion miles from Earth.

The Voyager 2 craft was to be separated from the rocket about one hour after launch. Then Voyager's engine was to be fired to boost its speed to 32,300 miles per hour for the journey toward the planets.

The craft carries recorded messages for any deep space civilizations that might be listening, including one from

President Carter and music ranging from a Bach Brandenburg Concerto to rock singer Chuck Berry's "Johnny B. Goode."

State Jobless Rate Down .5%

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's jobless rate for July dropped by one-half percentage point from June figures.

Robert MacDonald, Department of Human Resources chief labor analyst, attributed most of the rate decrease to school age youths who looked for summer jobs during June, but dropped out of the labor force in July because they were unable to find employment.

The estimated number of persons seeking but not finding work during July was 62,700, some 8,200 fewer than in June.

Kentucky's unemployment rate was 4.2 per cent last month compared with 4.7 per cent in June.

CANVASS KICKOFF—Jo Hern Curris, president of the Murray-Calloway County Community Theatre, presented a $100 check to Lisa Russell (center) and Steve Baker (right), both of whom are junior members of the theatre group. Mrs. Curris said that she wanted her contribution to be used specifically for the theatre's educational program, which includes: theatre classes for the junior members, and training of members in every area of the theatrical involvement. With her contribution Mrs. Curris became the first "Sponsoring Member" of the Community theatre's city-wide canvass. The official neighborhood canvass will be on Monday beginning at 5:30 p.m. and ending at 8:30 p.m.

Campaign Contribution Questioned

Hubbard Says Common Cause Trying To Embarrass Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Kentuckians are among congressmen who received campaign contributions from the Maritime Union and later voted in favor of a measure helpful to that union, Common Cause has reported.

According to the report by the so-called citizens lobby, Rep. Carroll Hubbard, D-Ky., received $1,300 from the Maritime Union while Rep. Gene Snyder, R-Ky., received a $500 campaign contribution.

Hubbard and Snyder are both members of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, which recently voted 31-5 to favorably report the Cargo Preference Bill to the full House.

"When I ran for Congress in '74, I can't remember the amount that labor union gave me," Hubbard said. "I have voted against labor time and time again. I have infuriated union leaders because I am unfavorable to very many of their bills."

Hubbard termed the report "sort of upsetting" and accused Common Cause of "trying to embarrass many Congressmen across the United States."

"Surely by now the people of Kentucky are aware that the unions have supported me financially in the past and yet my voting record in Washington has been interpreted many times as anti-union," Hubbard said.

Snyder was not immediately available for comment.

The contributions given both men are considerably less than those given to several other committee members. A Common Cause spokesman said that the citizens group is not accusing any of the committee members of conflict of interest.

The bill in question, if passed, would raise to 9.5 per cent the amount of foreign oil entering the United States that must be delivered by American fleets. American fleets currently deliver less than 4 per cent of the foreign oil, and the General Accounting Office estimated that, because of the higher operating costs of American fleets, the bill would cost taxpayers about $200 million a year.

The Common Cause report shows that union contributions went to 21 Democrats and three Republicans who later approved the bill.

"The maritime industry and the Cargo Preference Bill represent a textbook example for those who wonder how special interest campaign financing is used to influence government decisions," said Common Cause Vice President Fred Wertheimer. "Without private campaign donations, it is unlikely that the Cargo Preference Bill would be receiving serious consideration in Congress today."

The Madisonville seminar, according to Dr. Phil Deaver, the campus coordinator for the program, will begin at 1 p. m. Friday, Sept. 16, and will be concluded at 11:30 a. m. the following day.

Legendary Woody Herman And Band To Appear Here

Legendary jazzman Woody Herman and his 16-member Thundering Herd band have been scheduled for a concert Wednesday, Sept. 7, in Murray State University's Lovett Auditorium.

Sponsored jointly by the Kentucky Arts Commission, the Murray Jazz Society and the university, the concert is set for 8 p.m.

Now 63 and one of America's most popular musicians for more than 40 years, Herman made his professional debut as a band leader on Nov. 6 — election night — at the Brooklyn Roseland in 1936.

He had just taken over the Isham Jones band, in which he had been playing saxophone and clarinet as well as singing, and had been married the week before.

Herman and his wife, Charlotte, live in Los Angeles, and last fall celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary. They have one daughter, Ingrid, a bluegrass fiddler living in Nashville, and two teen-age grandchildren.

Herman and his band still play the blues, for which the group became internationally famous in the 1930s and '40s, and they still play some of the numbers that have made him an institution over the years, numbers like the band's theme, "Woodchopper's Ball," "Caldonia," "Early Autumn," "Four Brothers," "Laura" and others.

Last September, the Herman band made a rare symphonic appearance with the 86-piece world famous Dallas symphony orchestra. For the first time, a jazz orchestra and a symphony became one musical body playing original jazz-rock compositions written by Herman's talented young arranger-composer, Alan Broadbent.

A month later, the city of Houston declared "Woody Herman Day," the mayor read a special proclamation and the days' activities were culminated with a concert by the Herman band in the Astrodome.

During this performance, which was televised, Herman conducted 6,000 youngsters from all over Texas in a special arrangement of his ever-popular "Woodchopper's Ball."

"Woody Herman has never been a man to stand still in the music business," says Raymond Conklin, an instructor in the Department of Music at Murray State and campus coordinator for the concert.

"While other band leaders like Benny Goodman and Harry James continue to play the old arrangements, Woody has found his particular fountain of youth by gathering around him young and eager musicians, putting them on the band stand and touring the country playing music today's listeners want to hear. He is an important part of today's music scene, and is in great demand on college campuses."

Tickets for the Murray concert are $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for students.

Rescue Squad Takes Part In DES Training Exercise

Members of the Calloway County Rescue Squad were among the more than 300 emergency preparedness officials from thirteen western Kentucky counties participating in a recent training exercise at Lake Barkley. This annual event is sponsored by the State Division of Disaster and Emergency Services.

Other counties participating in the 1977 DES training exercise included Daviess, Todd, Livingston, Hancock, Graves, Butler, Marshall, Union, Caldwell, and Trigg. The event is sponsored by the State DES agency each year to promote cooperation and fellowship between the county organizations, while offering some basic training in rescue techniques.

Skateboarding Injuries

Q: Mrs. C.E. writes that she has grown increasingly fearful that her 11-year-old son will be seriously injured from riding his skateboard. He has had several minor tumbles. He almost lost interest in the sport, but it has again become the craze for him and his friends.

A: Skateboarding waned earlier in popularity but has had a very significant upsurge in the last 18 to 24 months. At the same time, the number of related injuries has also markedly increased.

Speed, combined with body exposure to injury, is a contributing factor. While the rate of travel on skateboards is highly variable, some riders have been clocked skating downhill on a highway at 50 to 60 miles per hour. Without brakes, a steering device or other protection, the outcome for such travelers depends on their skills in balancing their bodies, coordination and guiding the skateboard with their feet — and on a little luck.

In part, the thrill comes in making a ride that is dangerous. Unfortunately, exposure to danger cannot be removed from skateboarding, especially when the velocity of travel is high.

According to the U.S.

Consumer Product Safety Commission, most injuries occur in children between ages 5 and 14, though many older persons are also being injured as they try skateboarding. Skin abrasions and bruises are the most common wounds. Lacerations are frequent, as are fractures of the arms and ankles. Skull fractures and concussions are not rare.

In 1974, 3,230 skateboard injuries required treatment in hospital emergency rooms in the United States. In 1975, the number of related accidents requiring such treatment increased to 27,522, while in 1976 they surged up and almost tripled to 71,438.

As a matter of safety for skateboarders and others nearby, some communities have passed laws to prohibit skateboarding in public places. Other communities are building special facilities for the skaters.

No one appears to have come up with a design that significantly improves safety, even though some of the skateboards are works of art, equipped with unique rollers, and are moderately expensive.

Many enthusiasts for the sport argue that it is a sensible form of exercise and is no more dangerous than hockey, motorcycling, bicycling or water skiing.

To protect against inevitable spills, some protection can come from wearing a helmet to protect the head, tough clothing and elbow and knee pads — even gloves — to lessen scrapes and contusions of the skin. Some public education is needed.

That's what you get when you mix carelessness and electricity. Stay away from power lines. Accidentally touching one with anything can kill you.

If you're painting a house, trimming tree limbs, or doing any kind of work outside, you must stay alert to where power lines are located. Be especially cautious when you carry metal ladders, pipes, or poles, or when you're installing an antenna.

Dear Abby

Live-in Lover Not Invited by 'In-laws'

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend's parents are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary this month, and have planned a big bash at a very fancy country club.

They say it's only family and close friends, and you guessed it—I'm not invited! I have lived with their son for three years, and if that doesn't make me "family," I don't know what does.

I could marry him if I wanted to, but if I did I would lose the alimony I'm getting from my last husband, and also the child support from my kids' father. (My second husband.) I also think marriage is very old-fashioned today.

Everybody in town, including my boyfriend's parents, knows that we have been living together, so why shouldn't my kids and I be invited?

I hear that my boyfriend's ex-wife and her kids will be there. I ask you, is that fair? I think it's rotten for his folks to treat me this way. Am I wrong?

LEFT OUT

DEAR LEFT: Yes. On two counts: (1) Marriage is NOT "old-fashioned"—it's as popular today as it ever was. (2) Your boyfriend's parents are free to invite (and exclude) whomever they wish. It's their party.

DEAR ABBY: I witnessed an incident at the beach last Sunday that ruined my day. A young mother was trying to teach her daughter, who appeared to be about three, to swim. She held the child's head under the water and yelled, "If you don't learn to enjoy the water, you'll never learn to swim!"

Meanwhile the poor child was hysterical as she clung to her mother for dear life, crying and begging her to stop. The mother tore the child's little hands loose, and pushed her head under the water time and time again, insisting she had to learn to "like" the water. The child came up repeatedly, gasping, choking and pleading, but the mother showed her no mercy.

I wanted to say something to the mother, but I was afraid she'd tell me to mind my own business. Later I heard her tell her friend that a swimming teacher had told her that this was the only way to teach a child how to swim.

I had a similar experience when I was young. I'm now 32, I never learned to swim, and I'm still afraid of water.

CONCERNED IN GA.

DEAR CONCERNED: Whether or not the mother knew it, she was abusing that child, and child abuse is everybody's business. You should have told that mother what you told me.

DEAR ABBY: Are there any foods or beverages which will help a person sexually? I have heard there are several.

WANTS TO KNOW

DEAR WANTS: I know of none. But if you believe that a certain food or drink will "help you" sexually, by all means try it. It probably will.

Echoes From The Past By Judy Maupin

(A Column of historical and genealogical anecdotes, stories and family notes.)

Brandon's Mill

While talking to Reuben Rowland, last week, he asked me if I had ever heard of an old horse mill on the banks of Clarks' River. I asked if this had been recently and he answered that it had been "a way, way back." But the mill stones which had been used at that mill was also the one used at Brandons' mill, when it was established.

When I asked if these mill stones, which were about four feet in diameter, were still in existence, Uncle Reuben told me that he believed that they were embedded in a stone wall at a residence on the corner of Fourth and Sycamore Streets here in Murray.

Brandons' Mill was started by the Brandon Brothers, who had originated here with the settling of Charles Brandon. It is his story that I would like to tell here. It started at the time of the War of 1812, when Andy Jackson was the hero of almost every Kentuckian and most Americans.

Charles Brandon, along with two friends Eli Hodge and Alex Jackson left their home to go and join the battle at Norfolk Virginia, where it had been feared that the British would unleash the blow that would end the War of 1812.

But the British had chosen to go on to New Orleans, because of a pirate named Jean Lafitte who had chosen to throw in his forces with the British and who knew the swamps and bayous around Louisiana and was better suited to fight there. Anyway, Brandon and his friends got to New Orleans just in time to join Old Hickory in the battle which ended the war for the United States.

The now famous Battle of New Orleans was the last battle of the war, actually being fought two weeks after the peace treaty was signed in Paris, but because of his relationship with the man, Charles Brandon forever retained a great loyalty to Andy Jackson.

So, when in 1818, Jackson traded the state of Oklahoma to the Indians in return for the Jackson Purchase, Brandon and his family crossed the Virginia hills to settle near what is now Pine Bluff, or Hamlin, in Calloway County.

Brandon was a big, strong frontiersman who carved a road through the Tennessee Valley till he came to a rocky overlook on Blood River, where he decided to build a cabin and make his home.

There were a few other small settlements nearby, so Brandon decided that this would be a good place to establish a grist and sawmill. He proceeded to put a dam across Blood River, along about where Panorama Shores is now. With the water going over the dam furnishing the power, Brandon's Mill was soon a going concern, with men coming from miles around to avail themselves of its services.

The Brandons were often paid in lumber and grain for the work that was done. It is said that Charles Brandon carved out a toll bucket of walnut, with the date engraved on its outside — April 17, 1820.

As of 1938, the remains of the mill were still standing, although no longer in use as it once was, but still being operated by Cratus Bonner, who had married a great-granddaughter of Brandon.

There was a store and a small family cemetery nearby, where Brandon lay until Kentucky Lake was impounded and all the graves but one were moved. The lake also caused the dam to be covered with water.

Now there is little or no trace of the dream of a man who came west with hopes which he made a reality.

Don't Serve This Man Cheap Booze

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — No hostess would make the mistake of serving Dan Knopf cheap whisky. He'd detect it in 15 seconds or less.

His sense of taste and smell are so accurate they can't be matched by a computer. Sound incredible?

Not when you hear Knopf explain why, in his job, "the human body is better than an electronic instrument."

He's a professional taster, one of six who keep a close check on what's happening on the production line at the Early Times Distilling Co. In a week, they sample enough Kentucky bourbon to get any convention off the ground.

But Knopf and his associates never swallow a drop. "We'd have to quit working for the day," says Knopf, who has been in charge of the laboratory since 1952.

He operates under a rigid set of rules: no smoking, no conversation, and no coffee breaks. "Coffee will trick you. Everything you taste becomes delicious."

Knopf also avoids afternoon experiments because "your senses aren't as alert, and concentration is the name of the game in my job."

Whisky is drawn at random from warehouse barrels and sent to the laboratory, where Knopf must determine whether all is going well.

He sips from a numbered glass, swiggles the liquor around in his mouth, then immediately spits it into the sink. Other tasters are going through the same procedure in isolated cubicles.

As they sip, they talk to themselves. "This is too hot. This is too sweet. This is just right."

"We check for color, aroma and flavor," said Knopf. "And we've got to be right. We're making a judgment on 500 barrels of whisky and that's a lot of money to pour down the drain."

A good taster can rate 20 to 25 samples a day. "If he's unsure about one, it will be put aside and rechecked later by somebody else," Knopf said.

Collectively, the six tasters have more than 100 years' experience, and the key to success is the taste memory.

"You've got it or you haven't got it," said Knopf, who can easily recognize whisky made at different plants.

He readily admits that he spys on other distillers.

"We bring in our competitors' brands and run them through the lab to see if they've changed their product," he said. "I'm positive they do the same thing to us."

Knopf, who has been in the business since 1940, will argue with anyone who claims that age is a criteria of good whisky. "I've had some pretty bad stuff that was 10 to 12 years old and it was horrible."

He also points out that liquor won't age after it's bottled, "no matter what your friends may tell you."

Knopf said his job is to guarantee the distillery that the "flavor of its product will stay there, be consistent day in and day out."

To do that, he relies on his physical senses.

"The tongue can taste one part per million. I've never seen a computer that good."

Consumer Comment

Consumer Complaints

From The Kentucky Attorney General's Office

Have you ever been "ripped off" by a business but didn't know what to do about it? Kentucky has one of the best Consumer Protection Laws in the nation, and it provides relief for consumers who feel they have been taken advantage of. Under the law, all unfair, false, misleading or deceptive business acts or practices in the state are declared illegal.

To help consumers use the Consumer Protection Law, a toll-free consumer hotline has been established. Kentuckians can call 1-800-372-2960 free of charge to obtain information or assistance with a consumer problem. Staff members are available from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., five days a week to answer consumer questions.

Most of the calls on the consumer hotline are from people who have purchased a product or a service from a business and are later dissatisfied. Approximately ninety per cent of these complaints are due to a lack of communication or a misunderstanding between the business and the consumer. Callers are asked to write down all of the facts of their complaint, and to send copies of any letters, contracts or receipts, received from the business to the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division. Our office will then contact the business and arbitrate or mediate the problem. If a fraudulent business practice is discovered, then the case will be turned over to our attorneys for investigation.

However, if you have an emergency situation that requires immediate action, you can call the consumer hotline and quickly receive the necessary information needed to solve your problem. If we cannot directly answer your questions, we will refer you to the proper agency that will be able to help you.

Occasionally calls on the hotline come from consumers who have been approached by a business promoter with a deal that "sounds too good to be true." In this situation, callers will be seeking advice on whether or not to invest their money in the business. While our office cannot advise you as to how to spend your money, we can tell you whether previous complaints have been filed against the business.

If you have a complaint about a business act or practice, the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Protection Division is available to assist consumers. Our office has found that it can most effectively deal with written complaints and encourages you to write if you have a problem. Enclose copies of all letters, contracts or receipts that will help us understand your complaint, and send this information to the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Protection Division, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. For emergency situations, call 1-800-372-2960.

Study Says Women Work More Than Men

NEW YORK (AP) — The average employed man spends a lot more time each day at nonwork activities, such as coffee breaks and relaxing, than does the typical working woman, an ongoing study at the University of Michigan shows.

Analysis of the data, which began in 1974 and which will be continued to encompass other ways in which men and women use their time, is adding powerful documentation to the assertion that despite equal rights legislation, it's still a man's world.

A separate study, based on some of the data uncovered by Michigan's Survey Research Center, shows also that work inequality extends into the home where, said a researcher, "The men really don't help much."

To date, the study has found that the typical employed man spends 52 minutes or 11 per cent of each paid working day at onwork activities, while the average woman spends just 35 minutes, or 8 per cent, away from assigned tasks.

The minutes and percentages exclude the lunch hour, but do include extensions of it beyond the allotted time, as well as coffee breaks and other forms of relaxation, including conversation.

The same researchers have less solid evidence indicating that the energy and effort expended during the work day is greater for women than for men.

The glaring differences, said Greg Duncan, study director, appear to be rooted in the kinds of jobs commonly assigned to men and women. "Women are more closely supervised and unable to take the breaks men do," he said.

Despite the more relaxed working day for men, the study found they make about $7 an hour, in contrast to the working woman's $4.34. And when rates are adjusted for break time, Duncan said, the figures become $8.48 and $4.86, respectively.

Adding to the disparity in the work day, the researchers found through a more subjective and less validated portion of the study that women expend 112 per cent more effort than men during the time each is working.

The studies have great potential for explaining what has often been referred to as the lagging rate of productivity increase in the United States. As Duncan said, the 40-hour week does not mean people are working 40 hours.

Perhaps of even greater importance is the use made by women of the unfolding story of inequality. While it is not a subject on which the professors express learned opinions, it is bound to find its way into labor negotiations — and even into the marriage contract.

John P. Robinson, one of the researchers and author of the recently published book, "How America Uses Time," has found that women continue to perform most household chores, even when they become fulltime "market" workers.

"The man does very little even when the woman goes to work," said

Letter To The Editor

Labor To The Glory Of God!

Dear Editor: Labor Day comes on the first Monday in September and it became a national holiday in 1887. It is celebrated by parades, by business meetings, and by a day of rest.

Labor on this earth began when God cast Adam and Eve out of the Garden of Eden when they had sinned against God. The Bible says in Genesis 3:10: "In the sweat of thy face shall thou eat bread, till thou return into the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return." So, man had to go to work.

All throughout the Bible, people worked for the glory of God.

Noah, having faith in God, built an ark when he was told by God that there would be a flood which would destroy the earth. Noah worked hard on this ark and thus preserved all life on this earth.

Moses led the grumbling Israelites through the wilderness for 40 years so that God's promise to Abraham might be fulfilled — that of his seed being as the grains of sand or the stars in the sky.

God took David from his work as a shepherd boy to become a King of Israel. His accomplishments in literary materials for the Bible was at its height in the 23rd Psalm, which is widely used at funerals. Psalms sing forth praises for the glory of God.

Nehemiah led the people in rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem. It was almost an impossible job; but it was said of the people doing this work that "they had the will to work" and the project was in "the will of God." Today, we laborers need to realize these facts.

Paul was a tent maker during the day, earning his way, and then preaching the Gospel at night.

Jesus was a carpenter and He gave up His job as carpenter when He spent the last three years of His life in His redemptive work for God.

Jesus' disciples forsake their jobs to do His work here on earth — to bring repentant sinners to Christ, who could forgive them of their sins so that they might go to heaven.

Are you laboring for the glory of the Lord? His command was to "Preach the Gospel to all the nations." His command included everyone in this world.

Many hungry souls are waiting to hear "The Story of Jesus." Take it to them so that what Jesus said can be fulfilled. Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life, no one cometh unto God but by me."

"We carry the message through the Word of God which is the Bible; so we need to read it daily for at least an hour or so or more so that we can labor in the vineyards of the Lord. The Bible and the Holy Spirit will tell you what to do. But whatever ye do, do unto the glory of God."

Grayson McClure Named Harris Dealer Of The Year

Grayson McClure of Happy Holiday Travel in Murray was named Harris Flote-Bote Dealer of the Year at the recent Harris Dealerama held in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. McClure, 55, became a marine dealer in 1968 as an automobile sideline and joined the Harris dealer organization in 1972.

With his dealership located in southwestern Kentucky on the Blood River finger of Kentucky Lake, McClure attributes his success as a Harris dealer to plenty of local advertising, an availability of Flote-Botes ready for demonstration rides, the wisdom to drop some unprofitable lines, and the fact that Harris has never crowded his territory leaving him "enough elbow room to work."

In complimenting Harris and his representative, Bert Carlos, for the fine way they back up their product, McClure commented that in his seven years as a Harris dealer he hasn't had one truly dissatisfied customer. Buick will offer the McClure also explained that his only advice to other dealers is, "don't be afraid to cut loose unprofitable lines."

A family run operation, Happy Holiday Travel also employs McClure's son, Don, as service manager and his daughter-in-law, Marcia, as bookkeeper.

In addition to spending over 70 hours each week with his dealership, McClure is also on the Board of Directors of the eight county Kentucky Western Waterland, and the local Chamber of Commerce, where he served as president two years ago.

1978 Buick Regal Sports Coupe powered by turbocharged V-6

FLINT, Mich., — Buick Motor Division today released the details of its 1978 Regal Sport Coupe, a personalized luxury car powered by a turbocharged V-6 engine.

The Regal, one of General Motors' new generation of intermediate size cars, is nearly a foot shorter and approximately 560 pounds lighter than its 1977 counterpart.

"Buick, which pioneered such innovations as the torque converter transmission and directional signals, assumes a new pioneering role in 1978 — its 75th anniversary — the turbocharging of a small engine for a family car," said David C. Collier, general manager and a vice president of General Motors.

Buick will offer the turbocharged V-6 in two models at the start of production, the sport coupes in the Regal and LeSabre series. It will be available in both models with either a two-barrel or four-barrel carburetor.

Collier emphasized that the turbocharged V-6 is of the new even-firing design and will be the only engine available in those models. It is a production version of the 3.8 litre (231 cid) V-6 used in the Indianapolis pace car last year.

The way turbocharger is set up, it is strictly a demand system, Collier explained. At normal highway speed, the turbocharger does not affect the power output of the engine. But when the accelerator is depressed, the turbocharger pumps a bigger air-fuel mixture into the cylinders, boosting the power from a normal 105 horsepower to 150 with the two-barrel carburetor, and 165 hp with the four-barrel.

"For the driver, this is the best of both worlds," Collier said. "Under normal conditions, he is getting the economy of a small engine.

"Puzzletown" on display

You won't find the Mayor at City Hall these days. Not if you're looking for Mayor Fox of Puzzletown, that is. He's residing at the local library along with some of his friends, and they're now conducting their daily activities there.

The Mayor and his friends are part of a special "Puzzletown" display currently exhibited in the children's reading section of the Calloway County Public Library on Main Street. The library was one of more than 2,500 libraries across the United States which recently received complimentary Puzzletown play sets from Playskool, Inc., a division of the Milton Bradley Company.

Specially developed by Playskool for children three to eight years old, Puzzletown is a put-together, take-apart storybook town featuring the book characters of Richard Scarry, renowned children's book author-illustrator.

Playskool, a leader in the preschool toy field, made the Puzzletown set available to libraries since the toy creates a natural place for story telling, role playing and other special library activities.

Beat Goes On For Foster— Beatings Go On For NY Mets

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The beat goes on for George Foster—and the beatings go on for the New York Mets.

Foster continued to succeed with the long ball and the Mets continued to fail Friday night as the major league's leading slugger blasted his 40th and 41st home runs to help the Cincinnati Reds to a 4-1, 4-3 doubleheader sweep.

The power display by Cincinnati's lean left-fielder gave him a special distinction, although he tended to play down the fact that he had become the first major leaguer to hit the 40-homer plateau since 1973.

The last time that figure was reached, four players did it—Willie Stargell had 44 with the Pittsburgh Pirates and Dave Johnson had 43, Darrell Evans 41 and Hank Aaron 40, all with the Atlanta Braves.

Foster's RBI total reached an astronomical figure of 116 after Friday night's performance. That averages out to nearly one a game.

Just for the record, though, Foster is within shooting distance of Hack Wilson's National League record of 56 home runs in one season and is 20 away from Roger Maris' major league mark of 61. The Reds have 40 games left. The defeats were the eighth and ninth for the Mets in their last 11 games.

In other National League games, the St. Louis Cardinals bombed the San Diego Padres 12-4, the Chicago Cubs defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-2, the Philadelphia Phillies outscored the Houston Astros 9-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates turned back the San Francisco Giants 6-1 and Atlanta trimmed Montreal 5-3 in the first game of a doubleheader before dropping a 7-2 decision in the nightcap.

Cardinals 12, Padres 4
Mike Tyson drove in six runs with a home run, double and single, pacing a 16-hit attack that carried St. Louis over San Diego.

The stocky Tyson, a .231 hitter at the start of the game, smacked a bases-loaded double, driving in three runs during a five-run rally in the first inning.

Tyson belted his seventh homer of the season following a single by Ken Reitz in the fourth and capped his offensive flurry with a run-scoring single during a five-run fifth.

Cubs 6, Dodgers 2
Bill Buckner smashed two homers and two singles and drove in five runs against his former teammates to lead Chicago past Los Angeles.

Ivan DeJesus, also a former Dodger, had three hits and drove in the other Chicago run and Steve Ontiveros added three hits to the 15-hit attack the Cubs launched against Tommy John, 14-5, whose string of 22 scoreless innings came to an end before he could retire a batter.

The Cubs' hefty offense made it easy for Mike Krukow to rack up his eighth victory in 18 decisions.

Phillies 9, Astros 5
Pitcher Larry Christenson hit a three-run homer and benefited from three other homers, winning his eighth straight game as Philadelphia beat Houston. Christenson, 12-5, homered over the center field wall in the sixth inning with Bob Boone and Ted Sizemore on base. The homer, his second this year, came off Houston starter Joe Niekro, 8-5, who gave up eight runs and nine hits in six innings.

The Phillies got three runs in the first on Bake McBride's single, a double by Greg Luzinski and Richie Hebner's 15th homer. Boone hit his 10th homer of the year in the second and Jay Johnstone hit his ninth in the sixth.

Pirates 6, Giants 1

John Candelaria pitched a five-hitter and Bill Robinson hit a two-run homer to lead Pittsburgh over San Francisco. Robinson's homer, his 22nd, came in the first inning off losing pitcher Bob Knepper, 6-7, and followed a walk by Frank Taveras.

Candelaria, 13-4, allowed only two walks and no hits over the initial 42-3 innings before Alexander lined a single to center. Derrel Thomas scored the only San Francisco run in the eighth when he tripled and came home on a sacrifice fly by Rob Andrews.

Braves 5-2, Expos 3-7

Right-hander Phil Niekro hurled a six-hitter and struck out six batters to increase his National League-leading total to 191 as Atlanta won the opener from Montreal.

Tony Perez's three-run single highlighted a four-run After Perez smashed his bases-loaded single, he later scored the fourth run of the inning on Del Unser's base hit.

NOWHERE TO GO—Lone Oak quarterback Steve Mathis had no place to go to keep from being creamed by the Murray High Tigers. Moving in for the kill are Frank Gilliam (82) along with Paul Whiteford (85) while Claude Johnson (23) moves in from the side of the picture.

ONE OF THE BEST—One of the best quarterbacks in the area this season is senior Carroll Boyd (15) of Caldwell County. Boyd directed Caldwell County to an 8-0 win over Heath in the opening game of the jamboree Friday.

MEET MR. PARHAM—It wasn't a formal introduction but Lone Oak's Steve Mathis (34) got quickly acquainted with Tiger defensive end Alvin Parham (74) who sacked the Lone Oak quarterback on the play. Also in the picture for Murray are David Stephenson (75) and Paul Whiteford (85) while number 30 for Lone Oak is Johnny Pryor.

Teams Appear Well-Balanced Two Tiger Teams And Wildcats Win

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
How much can someone learn from a football jamboree?

The answer is: a lot. And losses, long hard weeks of practice followed by games on Friday nights and they all blend in to form a season.

A year ago, it was Murray High and Mayfield who looked so tough in the West Kentucky Football Jamboree, the first of the annual events in Roy Stewart Stadium. Almost everyone ignored Caldwell County that evening because they played so poorly.

And who would have guessed that same Caldwell County team would on the fifth Friday night of the football season knock Murray High out of the District race with a stunning 7-6 upset at Holland Stadium?

So actually, not much is really learned from jamborees. About the only things that are formed are opinions. And the opinions Friday night, after the second West Kentucky Football Jamboree was held, were interesting.

Even before the jamboree, opinions were interesting. Most coaches agreed football teams in the area would be well-balanced this season. They are.

The results from Friday's "games:" Caldwell County won 8-0 over Heath in the opener, Murray High won 6-0 over Lone Oak in the second 20-minute contest and in the third mini-game, Trigg County won 7-0 over Reidland.

First of all, as far as the 2-A race is concerned, one might draw several conclusions:

—Mayfield was not in the jamboree, they had already played several scrimmage games and were not eligible to play. How tough is Mayfield?

They won 18-6 over Henry County in a scrimmage game and the Patriots are supposed to have one of their best clubs ever. Henry County obliterated Paducah Tilghman in a scrimmage game this past Wednesday and nobody would believe the score so why bother?

The opinion shared by most: Caldwell County and Heath are both good ballclubs. Mayfield is a great ballclub and therefore, the team to beat.

FIRST GAME

Heath won the opening coin toss for the first 10-minute half. For six minutes, they used superb blocking and ate up yardage on the ground. But on a fourth and one, they failed to get the first down and gave up the ball on the Caldwell County 37.

In the final minute of the first half, Caldwell County drove down to the Heath two but fumbled the ball away.

Behind the arm of quarterback Carroll Boyd, Caldwell County began mounting a serious offensive bid early in the second half. Boyd gained 22 yards on the ground to move the ball down to the Heath 18 then David Barnes gained 10 yards to move the ball to the eight.

With 7:30 left in the game, Mark Blackburn went down the left side on a first and 10 from eight yards out for the TD and on the conversion run, Boyd recovered Barnes' fumble and took the ball in for an 8-0 Caldwell County lead. That was the game.

OPINION: Caldwell County is extremely quick and Boyd should be one of the very best quarterbacks around this year. Heath is a good club but, they will have to get more of an offensive game before they can even be labeled as a serious darkhorse in the District 2-A race.

SECOND GAME

The talk around Murray has been a poor season ahead for the Tigers.

The talk will change a bit after their performance Friday.

Murray High won the coin toss, used up about five minutes in their offensive series and moved the ball from their own 30 down to the Lone Oak 41 before punting the ball away.

On the first two Lone Oak plays, halfback Johnny Pryor ran for gains of 12 and 21 yards. After that, Lone Oak gained nine net yards the rest of the evening, finishing with 42, a dozen yards less than Murray.

The Lone Oak series ended when on a fourth and 11 from the Murray 17, linebacker Paul Whiteford creamed quarterback Steve Mathis for a five-yard loss.

Lone Oak's second series and last series of the half ended when cornerback Thomas Kendall of the Tigers snared a Mathis pass and intercepted the ball on the Tiger 47, returning it down to the Lone Oak 37 before the half ended.

The only score of the game was set up by Kendall's second interception, which came at the 9:09 mark of the second half. Kendall popped from nowhere and grabbed the ball on the Lone Oak 40 and returned it 10 yards.

After getting a first down, the Tigers sent Claude Johnson in to run at tailback. Johnson carried the ball three times, gaining seven, six and four yards, the final carry taking the ball into the endzone.

Johnson's touchdown run came at the 6:02 mark and was up center. The conversion run failed as quarterback Greg Garland was stopped short.

For the rest of the game, the Tigers showed off their defensive end play with Kyrile Catlett and Alvin Parham both making brilliant plays in sacking the Lone Oak quarterback.

"After our first series on offense and defense, we kind of got into it and played with more determination," Murray coach John Hina said.

"Another objective of this thing was trying to get some players in the game to see what they could do. We were able to two-deep and I was fairly pleased with our depth.

"Overall, we've still got quite a bit of preparation to do before we're ready to play. I'm pleased but not satisfied," Hina added.

OPINION: Don't count Murray High out of the 2-A race, though it will be extremely tough going if the Tigers are to win it.

THIRD GAME

After a fairly uneventful first eight minutes, there was some excitement as Trigg County's James Northington flew 53 yards down the middle of the field for a touchdown with 1:39 left in the opening half.

The PAT by Ernie Baker was good and the Wildcats of Coach Jimmy Harrell had a 7-0 lead.

The two clubs, who seemed to be fairly even, both played a hard-hitting defense and both clubs showed they were capable of moving the ball.

Reidland almost managed to score but time ran out when they were stopped by the clock on the three-yard line, leaving Coach Don Shelton's Greyhounds with a 7-0 loss.

OPINION: The games were fun and they gave football fans a preview of things to come. Other than that, the games meant nothing.

KICKING HIGH—Chuck Payne (25) of Reidland kicks his leg high as he scampers and gains some ground in the 7-0 loss to Trigg County in the West Kentucky Football Jamboree.

Seven Knotted At Top Of Westchester Pack

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Tom Weiskopf is searching for a spot in the World Series of Golf. Jim Wiechers is fighting for his playing life.

And five others—Miller Barber, Leonard Thompson, Howard Twitty, Rod Curl and Charles Coody, all tied with Weiskopf and Wiechers at seven-under-par 135—are seeking the $60,000 first prize in the rich Westchester Classic.

The seven-under-par tie for first place halfway through this $300,000 event represents the largest number sharing the lead in any tour event since nine players were locked for the first-round lead in the 1969 PGA National Championship.

In addition, there are three golfers only one shot off the lead and four others another shot behind, producing a group of 14 players within two shots of each other after 36 holes over the tight, hilly, little 6,603-yard Westchester Country Club course.

Aside from Weiskopf, the game's more glamorous names aren't among them.

Lanny Wadkins and Gene Littler, who had to go to a playoff to decide the PGA title at Pebble Beach, Calif. last weekend, both failed to qualify for the final two rounds. Wadkins, the PGA champion, had a 77-152 and Littler was 73-150.

Jack Nicklaus just made the cutoff figure of 145 after a second-round 74. Johnny Miller had his best round of the season, a 66, and was at 139. He was tied with British Open and Masters champion Tom Watson.

Wilbur Wood Makes Three Changes To Put Chisox In 1st

By BOB GREENE
AP Sports Writer

Wilbur Wood made three changes and put the Chicago White Sox in first place.

The knuckleballer changed his delivery, his pitching style and his losing ways Friday as he hurled the White Sox to a 3-1 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers Friday. It was Wood's first victory since July 22.

He traced his recent problems to dropping his elbow and pitching hand as he delivered the ball. Now he is throwing straight over the top.

About the second change, he said, "I normally throw about 80 to 85 per cent knuckle balls, but I threw a few more fast balls than normal tonight because I've just been walking too many men."

"I struck out (Don) Money on a fast ball in the ninth inning. It may have caught him by surprise, although it was kind of a gamble. But he was the leadoff hitter and I just didn't want to walk him."

"If he hits a home run, so what? We still have a one-run lead. Maybe he'll hit a fast ball 400 feet for an out. The important thing was not to walk him," Wood said.

The victory boosted the White Sox into first place in the tight American League West race by two percentage points over Texas. The Kansas City Royals and Minnesota Twins are tied for second place, one-half game behind the White Sox and Rangers.

In other AL games Friday, Baltimore edged Minnesota 3-2, Kansas City bombed Boston 9-3, New York clobbered Texas 9-1, Toronto defeated California 3-1, Cleveland nipped Oakland 2-1 and Detroit downed Seattle 6-4.

Richie Zisk and Oscar Gamble belted successive homers in the second inning to back Wood's five-hit pitching. The left-hander, who increased his record to 6-5, was hit hard only in the fifth inning when the Brewers scored their lone run.

Royals 9, Red Sox 3
"My back only hurt twice all night," said Kansas City's George Brett, who returning to the lineup Friday after rested for four days because of his ailment. "It hurt when I stooped down to pick up ground balls. It hurt a little bit when I swung at low pitches."

Brett picked on a low pitch off Mike Paxton and drove it over the fence in the first inning. "Whatever pain I felt disappeared when the ball went out."

Amos Otis and John Mayberry joined Brett in the Royal home run parade as the Red Sox' AL East lead narrowed to 2½ games over Baltimore and New York.

Otis hit a three-run blast in the sixth and Mayberry slammed a two-run shot.

Orioles 3, Twins 2

Andres Mora slammed a two-run homer to back Mike Flanagan's pitching as Baltimore stopped Minnesota. Flanagan, 9-9, allowed the Twins just two hits over the final seven innings as he gained his first victory since July 24 and handed Minnesota its fifth one-run loss in a week.

Flanagan fanned six and walked two, facing just one batter over the minimum after the second inning. The 25-year-old Oriole left-hander outdueled Twins ace Dave Goltz, who gave up just six hits but lost his first game in six weeks and dropped to 15-7.

Yankees 8, Rangers 1

Mike Torrez hurled a four-hitter and Reggie Jackson and Roy White powered home runs as New York captured its sixth straight victory. Torrez, who earned his sixth consecutive complete-game victory, increased his record to 14-10.

The Yankees scored five unearned runs off starter Roger Moret, 2-1, capped by Jackson's two-run single.

Jackson slammed his 22nd homer in the seventh and White added his 12th homer in the ninth.

Blue Jays 3, Angels 1

Jerry Garvin, with relief help from Pete Vukovich, snapped a 10-game losing string as the Blue Jays toppled California. The loss prevented Nolan Ryan from becoming the major leagues' first 18-game winner.

Winless since June 5, Garvin went the first 61-3 innings to increase his record to 8-13. Ryan, who struck out 13 Blue Jays to extend his major league record to 101 games with 10 or more strikeouts, is 17-11.

Indians 2, A's 1

Cleveland right-hander Al Fitzmorris pitched a five-hitter before needing ninth-inning relief help as Cleveland handed Oakland its 17th loss in its last 19 games.

Fitzmorris, 5-7, gave up a run on three hits in the first inning and then allowed only a seventh-inning single by Mitchell Page and a leadoff single by Marty Perez in the ninth before being relieved. He retired 11 batters in a row over one stretch.

Tigers 6, Mariners 4

Steve Kemp slammed two homers, driving in four runs, to power Detroit past Seattle. Kemp's hitting boosted Dave Rozema's record to 14-4, although he needed relief help in the ninth. Rozema, who gained his seventh consecutive victory, had hurled eight straight complete games.

Kemp lashed a three-run homer in the first inning and followed with a solo blast in the seventh. The Mariners picked up runs in the fourth and seventh on solo homers by Ruppert Jones and Dan Meyer.

Standing On The Firing Line

By Mike Brandon
Sports Editor

Okay. We know the Murray State football team is going to be better than last year's team which went 5-6 and needed just five points in the right places to win the Ohio Valley Conference championship.

The question is: How much better are the Racers going to be? The answer: much more than they have been given credit for thus far.

In the pre-season poll of coaches, Murray State was picked for fourth, which is sort of silly considering the Racers finished third last year and are coming off one of their best recruiting years ever.

Now for the whipped cream on top of the mashed potatoes, in other words, somebody has to be sick somewhere: a newspaper in Murfreesboro has picked Murray State to finish dead last in the eight-team conference.

"I'll say this," Bill Furgerson told a modest-sized group of newspaper, television and radio men Friday at the MSU Press Day.

"Last year, we ended the season by beating Western Kentucky 16-6. Right now, talent-wise, we have a much better team than we did at that point," Furgerson said.

Rather than putting the pressure on his own shoulders, Furgerson did not spend much time talking about the skill areas. Instead, he let his assistants do the backpatting.

First came Bill Hina, who works with the defensive line, which is always a pleasure, since Murray State's defense is consistent as the tax collector.

"I'm worried," Hina said.

"Thus far, in our scrimmages, our defense hasn't been able to contain our offense. Of course we're excited about our offense..."

Since we have Joe Tom Erwin's story on MSU football in today's paper, we won't spend all day talking about personnel, except the ones you would be most interested in reading about.

Moving right along, as Johnny Carson says, assistant coach Gary Crum spoke briefly about the defensive secondary, which is summed up in one word: McFarland.

Twice an All-OVC selection and last year an academic All-American, McFarland will head up the superb lineup of defensive backs, which should be the best in the league.

Crum said having McFarland in the defensive backfield was "like having a coach on the field." Doug Shelton, former Murray High star, will start at one cornerback position.

Racers Returning Total Of 33 Lettermen, Furgerson Pleased

By Joe Tom Erwin
Murray State SID

Murray State University which began football practice Monday, has 33 lettermen back from last year's team which compiled a 5-6 record and finished third in the Ohio Valley Conference with a 4-3 record. A majority of them had starting assignments sometime during the season.

"We have a lot of good players back and we had a good spring practice," Racer coach Bill Furgerson says. "If we can continue to improve this fall, we could make a strong bid for the conference championship."

The Racer defense, among the toughest in the OVC last fall, has four ends, five tackles, eight linebackers, and three backs who have proven they can play.

The most notable defensive returnee is safety Eddie McFarland, twice All-OVC and last year academic All-American. McFarland, the Racer captain, had 43 tackles, 20 assists, 3 fumble recoveries, and 2 interceptions last season. Jim O'Conner, who also returns at defensive back, had 31 tackles, 13 assists, 4 fumble recoveries, and 3 interceptions.

Roy Hackley, who started some late games and did a good job last spring at the back slot vacated by Darrell Ramsey, had 27 tackles. Doug Shelton, who saw enough action last fall to get 18 tackles and 8 assists, started on the first unit at the other defensive back spot during the spring. Tommy Houck, a redshirt, had a good spring. Four promising recruits will also try for back positions this fall.

Returning ends are Bill Shannon, Sam Franklin, John Farris, and Jeff Parks. Shannon had 15 tackles, 15 assists, and a fumble recovery last season. Franklin had 41 tackles, 19 assists, and 4 fumble recoveries; Farris, who missed several games with an injury, had 14, 8, and 2 and Parks had 11, 5, and 1.

Six of the eight linebackers who performed so well in the spring, played last year, the other two are redshirts. Those returning are Kevin Whitfield, an alternate captain, who had 56 tackles and 37 assists; Bobby Craig, 63 and 26; David Reagan, 21 and 6; Steve Maxwell, 17 and 4 and 2 fumble recoveries; Willie Wilson, 20, 8 and 1; and Tony Boone, 10 and 3. The redshirts are Mike Basiak and Mike Cukierski.

Bruce Martin, whom Furgerson called the best in the OVC at his position when he was hurt with two games to go on the schedule, heads the defensive tackle corps. Despite missing the last two games, he had 58 tackles, 25 assists, and 3 fumble recoveries and was named to the All-OVC second team. Other returning tackles are Chuck Marquess, who had 35 tackles and 17 assists, Jeff Boyd with 30 and 14, and Dennis McGee with 4 and 6. The three had a fumble recovery each. The fifth tackle is redshirt Jeff Gardner, an All-Indiana player at Evansville Harrison two seasons ago.

The Racer defense set an OVC record with 40 fumble recoveries last fall, picked off 22 enemy passes, and held opponents to an average of 13.5 points a game.

The Racer offense will again be directed by quarterback Mike Dickens, an alternate captain who completed 60 of 158 passes for 659 yards and 3 touchdowns last fall. Despite sometimes leaky pass blocking, he rushed for 74 yards. He's a 6-3, 210-pound junior. Completing perhaps the best quarterback corp in the OVC are David Ruzich, a 6-3½, 205-pound senior, and Roger Rushing, a 6-1, 190-pound junior. Ruzich started a couple games last fall, saw action in most of them, and completed 24 of 67 passes for 331 yards. Rushing was switched to tailback last year, but sat out most of the season because of illness. He rushed for 80 yards in 31 carries.

Running back Tony Franklin, who led the team in rushing with 280 yards in 97 carries, was injured in the Austin Peay game and missed spring practice while recuperating. However, he'll be back this fall. Randy Jones, who had 88 yards in 35 rushes last year, had an excellent spring practice and should be at his peak this fall. Two junior college transfers, Austin Perine and Tyrus Brown, are expected to give the Racer offense speed and deception. Perine, a 5-11, 180-pound junior from Gulf South, Miss., Junior College, rushed for 91 yards and a touchdown and caught two passes for 26 yards in the spring game. Brown, a 6-1, 180-pounder from Halls, Tenn., rushed for 36 yards and a touchdown. Another promising newcomer is 5-10, 195-pound transfer Larry Dostal. Two freshmen backs, Lindsey Hudspeth of Murray and Danny Lee Johnson of East Prairie, Mo., are also expected to aid the Racer offense.

Tight end David Thomas led the Racers in receiving last fall with 17 catches for 219 yards and 3 touchdowns, and Furgerson says he was one of the most improved players on the squad during spring practice. He's a 6-1, 215-pound junior.

Three veteran wide receivers, Garry Brumm, Jeff Braaten, and Larry Foxwell, are back, and punter Wes Furgerson, who saw some action at fullback last season, has been moved to the position. Brumm caught 17 passes for 209 yards last fall, Foxwell 15 for 187 yards, and Braaten 10 for 104 yards. Redshirt Keith Swearingen looked promising at the position in the spring.

The offensive line, which showed significant progress in all phases but particularly at pass blocking during spring practice, is led by veterans

Dan Hutchinson and Jim Jez at guard and center, respectively. Mike Shields, who started a couple late games at guard, is also back as are part-time starters Mike Rawls, and Bruce Raley at tackle. Cecil Wolberton, at center last season, has been moved to tackle. Shields is a 5-11, 211-pound senior; Rawls, 6-1, 250-pound sophomore; Raley, a 6-4, 252-pound junior; and Wolberton a 6-2½, 230-pound junior. Jerry Lee, who sat out last season, has rejoined the squad and has been switched to offensive guard from fullback.

The Racer kicking game could be the best in the OVC with both placekicker Hank LaGorce and punter Wes Furgerson returning. LaGorce was the team's leading scorer last year with 36 points on 10 field goals and 6 extra points. He was 6 for 7 on extra points, 10 for 20 on field goals, and made the All-OVC team. Furgerson punted 89 times for an average of 40.4 yards.

The Racers will open their season at Southeast Missouri September 3. The first home game will be with Tennessee Tech Sept. 24.

OPEN TOURNEY—County judge Bob Miller (left) and Murray mayor John Ed Scott officially opened the ASA Men's State Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament Friday afternoon at the Murray-Calloway County Park. A total of 31 teams are in town for the tourney, which will conclude Sunday night.

H.O.W. Program Designed To Help Combat Game Poaching

By John Wilson

Have you ever had that feeling of being helpless brought on by watching someone violate a fish or game law or commit an act of vandalism which will probably cause you to lose a favorite hunting spot to "Posted" signs?

Or have you, as a sportsman or as a citizen concerned about wildlife conservation, ever wondered what you could do to help stop such illegal acts as deer poaching, livestock shooting or trespassing?

Of course, it's highly inadvisable (and sometimes downright dangerous) for a private citizen to confront a violator directly, but now there is a way for you to report, quickly and accurately any game law violations which you witness.

The National Rifle Association of America has created a program called "Help Our Wildlife" (H. O. W.) and the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife has adopted a modified version of this plan along with fish and game agencies in many other states.

The basis of H. O. W. is encouraging citizens — particularly sportsmen and rural residents — to report promptly any and all game law violations or acts of vandalism which they might witness.

To make this reporting easier, the department of fish and wildlife will supply to anyone who requests them a number of violation report cards. These cards provide space for pertinent information which can lead to the arrest and conviction of those violating fish and wildlife regulations. The cards also contain the name, address and telephone number of the county conservation officer and are available from the local CO or they may be obtained by writing the Division of Public Relations, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. Those requesting the cards from the Frankfort office of fish and wildlife will also receive the name and phone number of the conservation officer in their county.

All information submitted on the cards will be kept strictly confidential and the cards need not be signed nor the sender identified in any way.

Besides its value in helping conservation officers apprehend game law violators, the H. O. W. program should also serve as a deterrent, since it will both make people more aware of the problems of illegal hunting and will also provide an effective way to report violations.

The success of H. O. W. will depend largely upon the willingness of sportsmen and landowners to report violations. We must begin to recognize the poacher, the game hog or the vandal as the criminal he actually is, a criminal who causes untold thousands of dollars in damages each year in property damage and loss of our precious wildlife resource, and who gives the entire sport of hunting a bad name.

Proposal Endorsed By Murray Bass Club

Proposed "Spring Spawn" Lake Elevation Could Increase Fishing Prospects At Kentucky and Barkley Lakes

A proposal to ask for an elevated spring water level on Kentucky and Barkley Lakes was a major topic of discussion at the Board of director's meeting of Kentucky's Western Waterland, this week KWW is the regional tourist promotion organization for Kentucky and Barkley Lakes.

Representatives from Tennessee Valley Authority, the U. S. Corps of Engineers, the Kentucky Department of Fish & Wildlife, and the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency were present at the meeting to comment on the proposed project and to answer questions concerning the issue.

The proposal, which has been endorsed by the Murray Bass Club, and the Marshall County Chamber of Commerce, calls for a two month "spring spawn" lake elevation of 361 feet, two feet above the present summer pool stage. The proposal is made in hopes that the elevated lake levels will increase the fish spawn and improve fishing prospects on the two lakes.

Bill McLemore, fisheries biologist for western Kentucky with the state Department of Fish and Wildlife explained that underwater vegetation gradually dies away as a lake becomes older, reducing the amount of cover in which the fish can lay its eggs. He said "You can either replace the fish cover manually, which is impractical in impoundments the size of our lakes, or you can raise the elevation to include cover which has not been flooded before." He indicated that two feet increase in elevation would make available a great deal more natural cover in which the fish could lay their eggs.

Both McLemore and Dick Austin, TVA Biologist from Land Between The Lakes, also pointed out that fishing follows a natural cycle going from poor to excellent within a seven year period, and that the lakes may have moved out of the "excellent" phase of the cycle.

Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency representative, John Conder, suggested that an alternative proposal to the stable pool elevation of 361 feet, would be to request a slow steady increase in the pool elevation during the spawning period. He pointed out that rapid changes in elevation will drastically affect fish on the spawning beds.

TVA spokesmen pointed out that numerous problems exist in conjunction with the proposal. Dr. Frank Holland, manager of Land Between The Lakes stated that TVA was set up with three priorities — flood control, navigation, and power. He added that while recreation was not one of these three priorities, TVA was very interested in giving attention to recreational concerns whenever possible.

Holland stated that a major problem in controlling lake elevations in the spring was in forecasting unpredictable spring rains. He pointed out that a higher pool stage would give less of a safety factor in case of spring flooding.

A meeting is being scheduled for September or early October to discuss in detail the proposed project with all the agencies involved as well as interested local persons, it was announced by Corps of Engineers spokesmen Richard Conner. Conner stated he felt it possible to "strike a happy balance" between the priorities of all the involved agencies, and find a workable solution to the problem.

Other business at the monthly KWW board meeting included discussion concerning the proposed work-study tour, tentatively scheduled for October 17-21. The tour, open to the KWW members and interested community leaders, will include visits to other tourism areas to study their development and promotional programs. Myrtle Beach, S. C., will be the primary destination, with other stops planned at Gatlinburg, Tenn.; Boone, N. C.; and Helen, Ga.

Other business also included a drawing for premium page ad space in the 1978 Vacationer's Guide as part of the book committee report, and a report from the 1977 Boat race chairman, Gary Mize.

Standing committee for the 1977-78 year were also appointed by president, Nita Ewing.

Special Teal Season Announced

The Ky. Dept. of Fish & Wildlife Resources announced a change in a previous news release concerning migratory bird seasons. It had been reported that a "special bonus blue-winged teal season" would run from September 3 through September 11. Teal hunters will be glad to find that special 9 day season now includes all species of teal and not just the blue-winged teal. This week's announcement also stated season dates and limits for other migratory birds, including waterfowl, will be announced later this month.

Tip For Cleaning Those Squirrels

Hope Carleton, Director of Public Relations, for Fish & Wildlife gave a pretty good tip to sportsmen on Saturday's, Kentucky Afield radio program. This tip will come in handy for squirrel hunters bringing home the squirrels today on this opening of the season. On every occasion of dressing and cleaning squirrels I have never failed to get squirrel hair on the meat. The answer to that problem according to Hope, is to wet the squirrel thoroughly before cleaning the game my favorite way. Now why didn't I think of that?

Wax Job

Thinking of the tip above for cleaning game reminds me of the time I used a tip given in Outdoor Life several years ago. My duck hunting abilities were rather green at that time (and I don't think they've ripened much since) and by some stroke of fortune I brought home some meat — a merganser. Considering the fact that I had just purchased a Remington 1200, 30" full, 3" magnum, and figuring in insulated clothing, licenses, stamp, boat, and accessories and the rest of the battalion of paraphernalia I had nearly $800 in a fishy smelling bird I was about to clean.

Now how do you suppose I cleaned it? Well, I did it the "easy" way by preparing a pan of boiling water and adding a nickel box of Gulfwax paraffin just like the article in Outdoor Life said to do. The wax melted and formed a floating skim on the hot water. After completely submerging the duck in the pan and pulling it back out I had a "waxed" duck. The floating wax had encased the feathers with a fine skin of paraffin. This helped in plucking the duck and kept feathers from floating all around my nose and eyes. The system was good for mass quantity plucking but not really worth the effort for one little duck. Of course, many waterfowlers just dress the breast and skin it. Around our house we clean and eat the whole thing — duck wings, squirrel heads, and even front legs of frogs. The only thing wasted is the time it takes to lick our fingers.

Squirrel Mount

And speaking of tips, Paul Black from Black's Taxidermy passes along the following pointers for those who may want a squirrel mounted this year. Paul recommends you carry a clean bread sack along with you when you go hunting. When you collect a healthy or unusually colored squirrel you have the bag to help protect the specimen from becoming unduly soiled or damaged by the other squirrels you bag. Lay the tail up over the back and slide the squirrel, bottom first, down into the sack. This will offer you maximum protection until you can take the squirrel to the taxidermist later in the day. If for some reason you cannot take the specimen to the taxidermist until a later date Paul recommends you wrap the sacked squirrel in a towel or newspaper and place it into the freezer. This will help protect it from the normal wear and tear of your shifting other frozen items in the freezer.

Paul also pointed out that the winter coat of any animal

Mepps

P. O. Box 527
Antigo, Wisconsin 54409

Small game hunters can now recycle Gray, Fox or Black squirrel tails. They can sell them to Sheldons', Inc., Antigo, Wisconsin, makers of Mepps, the world's largest-selling fishing lure.

The folks at Mepps do not suggest squirrels be hunted just for the tails. However, those who hunt squirrels for sport and food should save the tails. Squirrels occupy a vital role in nature. That's why sportsmen shouldn't waste any portion of the game they harvest for the table by recycling the tails.

The tails become hook dressing on Mepps spinners. Hunters find Mepps a ready market for tails. Good quality Gray tails bring 8 cents each and good quality Fox and Black tails, 10 cents each. Premium quality tails are worth 3 cents more. Postage is refunded on 50 or more tails.

"Over 30 million squirrels are bagged nationwide every year, and by recycling tails, squirrel hunters are simply selling a by-product and practicing good conservation," T. Layton Shepherd, "The Mepps Man," advises. Besides, a few tails will help pay for ammo on the next outing.

Complete information on the proper care, handling and shipment of tails is available by writing directly to Mepps, Box 761, Antigo, Wisconsin 54409. Tails can also be sent to this address.

River Cleanup

Taking out the garbage is a tiresome chore — but bringing it in can have its rewards, at least in Luray, Virginia. The Shenandoah River Outfitters, a local canoe firm, offers free rentals on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays in exchange for two bags of trash collected from the river and its banks, reports Judith B. Kless of nearby Potomac, Maryland. The idea, of course, is to encourage people to take care of their environment. From four to ten canoe groups take advantage of the offer each week, and the firm finds the improved state of the river well worth the cost of the program.

Duck Breeding Population Down From Last Year

This spring's total duck breeding population was down about 4 per cent from 1976, the Interior Department's U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service announced on August 2.

Weather on the waterfowl breeding grounds last fall and winter was mild, with record high temperatures and below average precipitation recorded at most stations. The drought continued until mid-May, when extensive rain fell over prairie areas in Canada and the United States. Unfortunately, the rains may have come too late in the nesting season to help nesting waterfowl.

Dry conditions in the important Canadian and U. S. prairie-pothole region resulted in a major decrease in numbers of breeding ducks there as birds overflew the dry areas. Spring waterfowl populations increased sharply in Alaska and northern Canada because of the overflight.

The breeding population of mallards, traditionally the most numerous species, decreased five per cent from 1976 and seven per cent from the 1956-1976 average. Breeding populations estimates for other species reflect the following changes from 1976: gadwall up five per cent; widgeon down one per cent; green-winged teal up six per cent; blue-winged teal down eight per cent; northern shoveler down 11 per cent; pintail down 18 per cent; redhead down 27 per cent; canvasback up two per cent; and scaup up seven per cent. The total breeding population of these 10 species was down four per cent.

Waterfowl nest throughout North America. However, the prairie-pothole regions of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, the Dakotas, Montana, and Minnesota normally produce 50 to 75 per cent of the continent's annual duck crop. This area receives highly variable amounts of precipitation, with periodic droughts fairly common. Consequently, the capability of this area to support breeding ducks also varies markedly.

This glaciated landscape, pocked with lakes and potholes, is the key area for waterfowl production in North America. Experience has shown that ducks produce less successfully when they are forced from their traditional prairie-pothole regions to more northerly breeding areas.

During July, duck broods are counted to monitor production success from the breeders surveyed in May. A comparison of May and July pond counts is made to determine an index of water stability.

The lake conditions seem to be improving rapidly as fall is just around the corner. The recent rainfall is helping to cool the water and this is what we need to hold the fish in shallow. Many sportsmen miss some of the best fishing in the country because they quit as soon as squirrel season opens. Actually most game fish are just beginning to build a new supply of body fat to help them through the long winter months ahead. They do this by feeding longer each day and completely gorging themselves each feeding period. When the Black Bass are on a feeding spree like this they become very reckless and many are easy targets for a nosy top-water lure.

Watch for the Bass to strike at a minnow and when one does, cast into the "boil" as quickly as possible and start your retrieve. You should change lures often to increase your success because Bass do learn to identify a lure as such, very quickly. This is a very exciting way to fish and I would like to see more of you take advantage of it.

I fished for Sauger Tuesday out of Kenlake Marina, guiding three members of the Bob Anderson family from Louisville.

They caught their limit of 30 Sauger in two hours by trolling Deep Wee R's and Bombers along the main river channel. They also caught three nice White Bass, one catfish and one Ky. Bass but it was small and was released.

Steve Anderson is the youngest, eight years, but he is an old pro when it comes to fishing for Sauger.

Todd Bradshaw is another young man that is rapidly becoming a "Bass'n man." Last week Todd boated a six pound plus largemouth on Ky. Lake that he will have to put on the wall.

Dr. Gary Marquardt easily took first place in the Murray Bass Club tournament Sunday. It was held on Barkley Lake and Gary was nine pounds ahead of second place.

Fishing conditions should remain good for the next few days at least so do yourself a favor and go.

Happy Fishing!

Four Wheeling

By Hamp Brooks

Hey Daddy and Mommy! This nut in the paper is talking about you. You bet. If you fall between the flathead Ford V8 with fender skirts, and the last of the Detroit muscle cars you are included.

Drag racing is taking on a new shape. Gone into memoryland are the nights at South Pleasant Grove, the Penny highway, the Doran Road, the Concord straight, the WPA strip, even the Bell City bottom; and there were many, many others. You remember them because you were there. Fat Albert does too because he was a rookie smoke in those days.

We loyal Calloway County natives (some said wild Indians) gave him plenty to do in those days. The sweet odor of fried clutch and burning rubber was a nightly occurrence. Probably for two reasons. One was that boys and girls will be boys and girls, and owning a fast car made proving it something desirable. Number two was that no one saw fit to construct a legal drag strip close by.

I could name the honor roll of the greats and near greats but it is best that I not do so. Most of them are respectable citizens. Some might claim it libel. All of you remember. Even good old Fat Albert.

Well the heyday of the 283 power pack, the T-Bird Interceptor, the Olds Rocket and J2, the fuel injected beasts, the Golden Hawk ala Packard mill and Overdrive, the D500 Dodge, the Tripower Pontiacs, Z cars, GTO's, Supersport, the numerous Chrysler hemi engined products, and a whole host of others are lost in memory.

The magic numbers of 265, 283, 289, 302, 327, 354, 361, 383, 389, 390, 396, 409, 413, 426, 427, 428, 429 and the last of the muscle motors 440 no longer seem too familiar. They are the fire breathing ancestors of the current cough and grunt machines.

It is with some degree of nostalgia we lament their passing, confessing that the prospect of squaring off a Vega hatchback with a Datsun wagon just doesn't hold in the same tradition.

Many of the four-wheelers are folks who might have been found in the ranks of former drag racers. An ingenious thought has occurred. Drag racing was illegal because it had to be done on public highways and the danger was great. With four wheel drive say nix to the highway. The era of dirt drags now enters.

September 10th, four wheel drive drag racing will premiere in Murray, Kentucky. The track will be dirt in front of the grandstand at the fairgrounds. Two hundred and fifty feet is the distance. There will be classes for all four wheel drive vehicles and it's a "run what you brung" affair, similar to the old days of drag racing before one had to spend eight grand or more to be competitive.

There will be three different divisions - Stock, Modified, and Experimental. Stock is just that, no performance goodies permitted. Modified you can do what you want to with a stock cubic inch block. Experimental is anything else.

Classes will be determined by type of engine and wheelbase. Anything under 102 inches of wheelbase runs together with the same type engine. That's little Jeeps, Broncos, Toyotas, Land Rivers, some Scouts, and Jeeps. Longer wheelbase rigs such as pickups, Blazers, Ramchargers run against each other. In this group those with engine sizes of 360 cubic inches and less will compete, and those with bigger blocks can have at it.

For the deciding of Eliminator in each division a spot system will be used. For instance a stock four cylinder jeep running a stock V8 jeep would be granted three lengths.

Trophies will be provided for each class.

Each Eliminator will receive $50. In addition the Top Eliminator will get an extra $50.

The admission fee is cheap in today's age of high priced entertainment. Adults for $2, ages 6-12 for $1, and under 6 FREE. Parking is free, and there are no extra charges. My family could get in for $5. How about yours?

If you want to enter the fee is $10 for one driver, $15 for husband and wife if each wants to drag. Registration will close one-half hour prior to race time which is 7:00 p.m. We think you'll like it.

HAPPY FOUR WHEELING.

Oklahoma Fish Stocking Program Benefits Anglers

OKLAHOMA CITY, OK.—Native largemouth bass, smallmouth, Florida largemouth and striped bass were stocked at 17 Oklahoma lakes and streams between May 18 and June 5, according to the Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation.

Fisheries Division Chief Steve Lewis said the distribution was made to enhance fish populations at the sites in the Department's continuing effort to provide viable populations of sport fish species for enjoyment by outdoor recreationists.

State Fish Hatchery Supervisor Don Driscoll said 94,000 fingerling native largemouths were stocked at Birch Reservoir in northeast Oklahoma. Approximately 125,000 Florida largemouth fingerlings were stocked at various other areas in Oklahoma. Other lakes received nearly 250,000 smallmouth bass fingerlings to supplement those lake's population.

Driscoll noted the three-year striped bass stocking program had been completed at Lake Tenkiller, with approximately 370,000 fingerlings delivered at the site this season. He added that 3,150,000 striped bass fry were stocked at Grand Lake.

The Oklahoma Fisheries Division tagged 50 walleye at Canton with transmitters in an effort to monitor the fish.

Reward for return of the transmitters was being provided by the Fisherman's Association of Oklahoma (FAO), a statewide angling organization whose members are concerned with all around improvement of the state's fishery. Return of each transmitter carries a cash award of from $10.00 to $50.00.

Anglers catching walleye with surgically implanted transmitters are being asked to return the devices to Blaine County Game Ranger or the Corp of Engineers Office at Canton Lake. The transmitters may also be returned to the Fisheries Division at the Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation, 1801 N. Lincoln, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73105.

Vacationing Rosebud, Mo. residents, Harry and Helen Davis, have their hands full here with a yellow catfish they caught on a trotline in the Blood River area this week. The cat tipped the scales at 45 pounds and measured 43 1/2 inches long. What a boatload.

Physician Reappointed To Wildlife Commission

Frankfort, Ky. — A Columbia physician has been reappointed to a four-year term on the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission by Governor Julian Carroll.

Dr. James C. Salato will represent sportsmen in the Fourth Wildlife District, comprised of 15 mid-Western Kentucky counties. Salato was selected from five candidates submitted to the governor by licensed hunters and fishermen of that district who participated in balloting last June in Munfordville.

The new term will be Salato's fifth and his second in succession. A past Kentucky Sportsman of the Year (1972) as selected by the League of Kentucky Sportsmen, Salato currently serves as the commission's secretary. He will be sworn in for his next term at the commission's quarterly meeting in Frankfort August 29.

A native of Cayuga, New York, Salato is a graduate of Western Kentucky University and the University of Louisville Medical School. He has been in general medical practice for nearly 30 years in Columbia and is a member of several medical and civic organizations. Salato and his wife, Jane, have three children and two grandchildren.

The Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission, comprised of representatives from each of the state's nine wildlife districts, generally oversees policies of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and sets hunting and fishing regulations.

The Fourth Wildlife District is composed of Adair, Barren, Cumberland, Edmonson, Grayson, Green, Hardin, Hart, Lenoir, Marion, Metcalfe, Monroe, Nelson, Taylor and Washington counties.

A REPORT OF PROGRESS

A properly located and installed diversion will control erosion and increase crop yields such as this one on the Alton Paschall farm. 7,015 feet of diversion was installed last year.

The first step in bottom land improvement is adequate surface drainage like this ditch being constructed by M & M Construction on the Charles Miller farm. Total construction for the county was 28,500 feet.

From Your Calloway County Conservation District For Fiscal Year 1977

The Calloway County Conservation District Supervisors present the following report to the people of this county. The Supervisors are Albert Wilson, Clifford White, O. A. Bogard, Paul Blalock, Milton Walston, Charles Guthrie, and Thomas Armstrong.

The report was prepared in order that we might acknowledge the assistance received from the many groups, organizations and agencies and summarize the accomplishments of the District and cooperating farmers and landowners. Personnel have been available to assist landowners with planning and application of all kinds of conservation practices. The District depends on other State, Federal and Local agencies to assist in carrying out the program of work.

During the year, 228 landowners were assisted with planning and application on their land. 32 landowners were assisted in preparing complete conservation plans on their farm. 108 landowners applied practices on their land during the year.

The Calloway County Conservation District is a member of the Kentucky Association of Conservation Districts and the National Association of Conservation Districts.

This report can not list all of the accomplishments of conservation for the year nor can it recognize all the dedicated landowners who are concerned and practice conservation on their land.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Tucker were presented a plaque by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company for being the outstanding cooperator in the Conservation District last year.

The District presented awards to groups and individuals at their annual Awards Banquet at the Colonial House.

Charles Miller and Charles Blalock were presented the Master Conservationist Award for having completed more than 90% of their farm plans.

Mr. Roy Cothran and Mr. Gene McCutcheon were presented honor awards for their assistance to the district in promoting conservation.

Also awarded at the banquet were those students from the county and city schools chosen as winners in the Conservation Essay and Poster Contest.

The management of crop residue and no-till planting of corn and soybeans conserves soil and moisture. This no-till corn on Lowell Palmer's farm is doing both. Annual total is 2,000 acres of minimum tillage, 2,300 acres crop residue, and 1,500 acres of conservation cropping system applied.

This is Robert Houston constructing a grassed waterway on the T. Clark farm. One of the biggest contributions farmers can make to improve water quality is to install waterways in all natural water courses. A total of 33 acres of grassed waterways were installed last year.

This is tiling on the Stark Erwin farm. Sub-surface drainage improves soil tilth and crop yields. The cost for tiling can be recovered in a short period of time thru increased yields. 60,000 feet of tile was installed this year.

Groucho Marx, Comedian For More Than 65 Years, Dead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Groucho Marx, whose patented duck walk and flick of a cigar combined with an irreverent wit to make him the most famous of America's zany team of comedians, is dead of pneumonia at age 86.

The bushy-eyebrowed, mustachioed Groucho, who recently was the center of a bitter court battle over who should be his guardian, died at 7:25 p.m. PDT Friday at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center. First word of the death was withheld for 50 minutes, giving the family time to quietly slip out of the hospital and into seclusion.

"I guess you could call this an end of an era. But I don't believe Groucho will ever leave us. He's too impudent," said Erin Fleming, his longtime companion.

Groucho had practiced his irreverent, chaotic brand of slapstick comedy for more than 65 years in vaudeville, films, radio and television.

Earlier in the day, a distraught Miss Fleming had told The Associated Press by telephone: "Groucho's just having a nice little dream now. He's just going to have a nap and rest his eyes for the next several centuries."

With Groucho when he died were his son, Arthur, daughter-in-law, Lois, and grandson, Andrew. Miss Fleming left about 15 minutes earlier.

Groucho lapsed into critical condition early Friday, slipping in and out of consciousness, a hospital spokesman said.

He had been hospitalized with pneumonia since June 22, reentering Cedars-Sinai only one day after he had been released following his recovery from hip surgery.

Groucho had lingered in "fair" condition for weeks, until Wednesday when his vital signs became erratic, a hospital spokesman said. The comedian's condition worsened early Friday when he began losing consciousness and had to be administered oxygen and fed intravenously.

His early comedy years were spent with the family, the five Marx brothers. With Groucho's death, only Zeppo, 74, is still alive. The least known brother, Gummo, died this year. Chico died in 1961 and Harpo in 1964.

In recent years, a new era of affection for Groucho and the Marx Brothers had emerged, spawned by television reruns of their films, the "You Bet

Your Life" game show and live-theater revivals.

On May 6, 1972, Groucho embarked on what was to be a series of concerts. "An Evening of Groucho" at Carnegie Hall in New York that first night was sold out the day after it was announced. More than 3,500 youths — many dressed as the various Marx Brothers — were turned away from the theater.

It was the 37-year-old Miss Fleming who brought Groucho out of retirement for the Carnegie Hall appearance, and friends credited her with keeping him alive by her stimulating influence.

Friends also said Groucho was never aware in his last few months that his name was in the headlines during the court fight over who should be named guardian of his $2.8 million estate.

The struggle was between Miss Fleming, a former actress who was hired as Groucho's secretary in 1970 and had been his almost constant companion since, and Arthur Marx, 56, the comedian's only son.

At one point in the trial, his brother Zeppo testified: "Groucho's in love with her."

However, Arthur Marx pictured Miss Fleming as Groucho's grim tormentor, who latched onto Groucho for his money. Other witnesses said she badgered him with insults and curses.

The battle ended last July when the comedian's grandson, 27-year-old Andrew, was named permanent guardian.

Groucho, whose given name was Julius, was born Oct. 2, 1890, in New York City, the son of Jewish immigrants.

His father, Sam, was an East Side tailor who lived to 101. His mother, Minnie, was the daughter of a wandering magician and sister of Al Shean of the famed Gallagher and Shean vaudeville team. She raised her five sons in poverty but managed to save enough to give the boys music lessons. She was immortalized on Broadway in the musical "Minnie's Boys."

Groucho was the third of five sons. His brothers were, in order of birth: Leonard (Chico), Arthur (Harpo), Milton (Gummo), and Herbert (Zeppo).

The brothers never considered themselves a comedy act until one day in Nacogdoches, Tex., when a runaway mule started a minor riot outside the theater and caused most of the audience to leave.

The infuriated brothers began joking and lured the audience back inside with their antics — their comedy act was born.

The brothers' first movie was a film version of "The Cocoanuts" in 1929. "Animal Crackers" was next, followed by "Monkey Business," "Horse Feathers," "Duck Soup," "A Night at the Opera" and "A Day at the Races."

The brothers retired in 1941 after "The Big Store," but returned in 1946 to make "A Night in Casablanca" and "Love Happy" in 1948.

Groucho and his first wife, now Mrs. Ruth Garrity, were divorced in 1943 after a 22-year marriage. Their two children, Arthur and Miriam, are writers. He and his second wife, Kay Gorcey, were divorced in 1950. They had a daughter, Melinda.

Groucho was divorced from his third wife, Eden, in 1968 and was ordered to pay a $1 million settlement.
